I. Project Title

Re-Printing of DPO ACE Review Notes

I. Introduction

The National Privacy Commission (NPC) is a government agency mandated to administer and implement the Data Privacy Act of 2012 (R.A. 10173), and to monitor and ensure compliance of entities that process personal data with the standards set for data protection in government and the private sector. One of the existing mandate of the Commission is to undertake necessary or appropriate efforts to inform and educate the public of data privacy, data protection, and fair information rights. In this connection, the Commission initiated this project to capacitate and assist Personal Information Controller in their journey towards compliance with the requirements of the DPA and taking into account that protection of personal data is very crucial for every Personal Information Controller.

II. Background

The DPO ACE Training Program is an online training course that aims to educate and/or capacitate Data Protection Officer (DPO) on steps required to implement DPA compliance in their respective organization. Participants will be provided with detailed insight into the main provisions of DPA as well as practical guidance on what organizations should start in complying with the requirements of the said Act. To help participants become more knowledgeable of data privacy concepts as well as the issuances of the NPC and the DPA, the PHIL-DPO team crafted a workbook entitled the DPO ACE Review Notes, in which key concepts are cited per module in order to help the DPO and other participants refresh their knowledge on data privacy and the DPA.

III. Objectives

The material aims to:

- 1) disseminate information materials about the commission and the data privacy;
- 2) serve as the participant's learning workbook for the DPO ACE Level 1 modules and certification exam; and

3) reprint additional copies due to demand from stakeholders requesting for copies from the Commission.
